From the Director of Music

Music programming for 2015-16 kicked-off on Sunday, September 13 with a return to our regular Sunday morning schedule—Chamber Singers rehearsing at 9:15 a.m. and Sanctuary Choir rehearsing at 9:45 a.m. Calvary Ringers rehearsed in late summer and joined us for a festive day of worship as we returned to the Sanctuary.

As we begin the fall season, our music staff includes Amelia Taylor, soprano; Teresa Blessing, mezzo-soprano; Miles Herr, tenor; Zain Shariff, baritone; organists John Dautzenberg, Matt Daley and principle sub Keevin Lewis; plus our fantastic volunteer singers in Sanctuary Choir. This season is Cheryl's eleventh as Director of Music.

In October, Dwayne Pinkney re-joined our music staff in a new role, as director of Calvary Young Musicians. This pilot program has received enthusiastic support from Calvary's staff, lay leadership, children's teachers and families. CYM met for the first time October 4; the October 11 session included a brief Parent Orientation. Calvary's children meet with Dwayne for a full hour each Sunday, after they begin worship in the Sanctuary, to learn about music and to prepare to sing in worship. We'll re-evaluate in December-January, with the hope and expectation that the program will continue through spring 2016. We anticipate that the children will sing in worship November 22 and December 13; spring dates TBD. Please keep this program in your prayers and thanks for supporting Calvary Young Musicians!

Lots of fantastic music opportunities are coming up this fall and winter.

Sunday worship, November 1: Handbells and Festival Choir offer special music for All Saints Day.

January 5 – 11, 2016 we anticipate partnering with the National Symphony Orchestra in their annual DC outreach program, this year in Calvary's neighborhood! NSO in Your Neighborhood: Downtown to Penn Quarter—details are being finalized, so stay tuned for confirmation and be sure to participate in this unique opportunity featuring the professional instrumentalists of the NSO.

We are working to finalize a wonderful season of music at Calvary continuing in 2016, both worship and concert events, so stay tuned for more info.

Thanks to everyone in the Calvary Community for supporting Music at Calvary—all of us on the music staff, as well as all our volunteers, will continue to work hard to provide quality music throughout the season in 2015-16. Participate with us by attending, singing, playing an instrument, helping out with publicity, giving generously, praying, smiling, offering a good word, sharing whatever gifts you have to share!

Friends, you are invited to join Pastor Elijah at a City Wide Call for Justice and Mercy on Wednesday evening, November 4, from 7 to 9 PM at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. Our featured speaker will be Bryan Stevenson, Executive Director of the Equal Justice Initiative and author of the best-selling book, "Just Mercy". Mr. Stevenson has been at the forefront of the defense of death row inmates in this country, and he has much to say to all of us about approaches to improving our criminal justice system, both nationally and locally. We ask you to RSVP at www.callforjusticeandmercy.eventbrite.com. We intend to fill our sanctuary for the event, and trust that you, too, can be part of this important event.

Peace and Blessings, Pastor Elijah

Church-wide Fall Retreat led by Calvary's Deacons

"We are the Story"

Fall color, check. Walks in the wood, check. Food, games and laughter, double check. Time to learn, to grow, and to get to know one another a little better, triple check. The list is done; it must be time for the fall retreat at Camp Fraser.

Your deacons invite you, one and all, young and old and in-between, to join us for a day of fun and who-knows-what at Camp Fraser, Saturday November 7, from 9:00 a.m. until, well, until 5:00 p.m. or until the campfire burns low, whichever you choose.

This year's theme is We Are the Story. We'll spend time together worshipping and studying the story of the Syro-phenician woman as told in Mark 7:24-30 and then we'll spend the afternoon sharing our own stories, building, line by line, the next chapter in our life together as a community.

All you need to do is join us. After all, we are the story.

"I wanted to give a big 'THANK YOU' to everyone who participated in this year's Yard Sale. We raised between $1,700 and $1,800 for the Shalom Scholarship Fund. (Paul R. says 'That's nothing to sneeze at!').

We couldn't have done it without all the donations of merchandise, and of tissue, bags and boxes. Thanks, too, to everyone who helped during the sale and with the setting up and closing down – you were all fantastic!

And finally I have special appreciation to all of our staff who provided amazing help and support beyond their regular responsibilities. We are fortunate to have their hard work.

Gretchen White"

STEWARDSHIP: Community, Commitment, Covenant

An Excerpt from the Stewardship Testimony of Isaac and Mary Wright

...so much of stewardship is about perspective – about changing that perspective from oneself to a perspective of community and a perspective that the resources we've been entrusted with – our financial resources, our talents even our very time on this earth – are not our own, but are the resources of God that we've been entrusted with for a time. Our stewardship should reflect that.

So often when we talk about stewardship, the story from the Gospels of the widow's mite is told.

For Isaac's first birthday after we'd married, I gave him the most common surviving coin of Biblical antiquity – a 2,000 year old bronze mite. You understand why the mite was the smallest denomination of currency when you see one – it's tiny.

And so often this story – about how the widow who had virtually nothing gave almost all she had to the church – is used as an example of Jesus teaching the importance of giving. But I think that traditional interpretation misses the mark. In Matthew, the widow's mites are much more than that in context.

In the text directly preceding Jesus observing the widow giving her mites, Jesus was teaching about inequities and the social, religious and political imbalances of the day: <sup>38</sup>As he taught, Jesus said, Watch out for the teachers of the law. They like to walk around in flowing robes and be greeted with respect in the marketplaces, <sup>39</sup>and have the most important seats in the synagogues and the places of honor at banquets. <sup>40</sup>They devour widows' houses and for a show make lengthy prayers. These men will be punished most severely. (Mark 12:38-40)

It doesn't seem like telling the whole story to just say the Biblical episode of the Widow's mite is about the importance of giving. No, it seems more about stewardship itself. Jesus doesn't seem to be simply praising this widow in poverty who was sacrificing to give to the church – likely doing without adequate nourishment for her or her children. It seems as though Jesus was condemning a system that allowed those who had resources to fail the test of stewardship and instead put the burden on those who themselves should be receiving the benevolence of the church.

I keep this mite in the top drawer of my dresser. Near me every Sunday morning as we get ready for church and it reminds me of that lesson before we come to Calvary. What about us, today? What kind of stewards will each of us be? Will we give generously, but not adequately for what we've been entrusted? Will we, like an unjust tax code, shift the burdens of stewardship? Or, will we meet the challenge?

We are so thankful to be part of this church body – to be part of this congregation – with its joy, its community and with its responsibility. We are thankful to face this challenge of stewardship with you – our brothers and sisters – of what kind of stewards we will be.
