

CALVARY KIDS' CLUB NEWSLETTER

Term: Spring | Issue 2 | Date: 5/30/2018

Why Does Homework Exist

by Alison Sorto

First, homework exists because we should practice reading.

Second, homework exists to practice for a hard test.

Third, homework exists so you could be ready for college.

Finally homework exists because it helps us in what we are learning.

In conclusion, homework exists because it is important.

Should Kids Have Homework?

by Alison Sorto

No, because they already know their work, so they could just read a book.

That's why they do not need homework.

WILD GOOSE FESTIVAL - BY CRISTIAN DURAN

Wild Goose is a fun place with a river, small beach, concerts, and hiking trails. The festival is located in a Hot Springs campground in North Carolina. Across the river, you can hike the Appalachian Mountains. It will take place July 12-15 this year.

Pros & Cons

Some Pros:

Wild Goose is full of fun and different activities such as hiking, singing, and even arts and crafts.

Some Cons:

Wild Goose has lots of insects. It can be very cold or really hot, and there is no internet connection.

What you must pack

When you go to Wild Goose, you will need a toothbrush, toothpaste, a towel to dry yourself off, slippers/sandals, tent, air mattress or sleeping bag, 2 or 3 blankets.

WHERE IS ANNA? BY RUTHIE ALCAZAR

Once upon a time, there was a chicken called Anna. One time, Lulu went to get eggs in the afternoon and she noticed Anna was missing. Lulu told Papa and Mama. They went looking for her everywhere in the backyard. It was getting dark and starting to rain. Then it was 7:00 pm, the time Papa had to go pick up Rachel. When Rachel came back home, she ran into the backyard to help them look for Anna. Then Rachel found Anna under the food bowl.

Alcazar Family Wildgoose Packing List - by Rachel Alcazar

| Tent Area      | Food/Drinks           | Toiletry       | Clothing/Sleeping      | Travel                                | Footnotes   |
|----------------|-----------------------|----------------|------------------------|---------------------------------------|---|
| Tarp*          | Snacks                | Shampoo        | Clothes                | Bug spray                             | *We are famous there as the "Tarp People" thanks to our big blue tarp |
| Tents          | Water bottles         | Conditioner    | Rain boots             | Sunscreen                             |   |
| Small grill    | Apple sauce           | Soap/body wash | Rain coats             | Umbrellas                             |   |
| Charcoal       | Cereal                | Toothbrushes   | Bathing suits          | Flashlights                           |   |
| Trash bags     | Cancha!!!             | Toothpaste     | Blankets               | Lanterns                              |   |
| Bungi cords    | Eggs                  | Hair brushes   | Pillows                | Games for the ride                    |   |
| Cooler         | Milk                  | Hair bands     | Water shoes            | DVDs and movies for the ride          |   |
| Fans           | Guacamole ingredients | Cotton swabs   | Sneakers               | Glow sticks                           |   |
| Broom          | Fruits                | Toilet paper   | Socks                  | Travel journals                       |   |
| Duct tape      | Lemonade powder       | Hand sanitizer | Backpacks              | Sunglasses                            |   |
| Matches        | Pitcher               | Wipes          | Duffel bags            | Hats                                  |   |
| Scissors       | Tea bags              | Towels         | Bed sheets             | Butterfly pavilion to catch fireflies |   |
| Folding table  | Coffee                |                | Air mattresses         |                                       |   |
| Folding chairs | Plates                |                | Phone cables           |                                       |   |
|                | Forks and spoons      |                | Air pump               |                                       |   |
|                | Wash basin            |                | Batteries for air pump |                                       |   |
|                | Sponge                |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Dish soap             |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Cups                  |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Rice cooker         |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Rice                  |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Gas stove             |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Propane tanks         |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Ziplock bags          |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Clips for food bags   |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Cooking pans/pots     |                |                        |                                       |   |
|                | Cooking utensils      |                |                        |                                       |   |

** We once plugged it in at the sound board at the Main Stage when Brian McLaren was speaking. Mr. Jason Smith joked that our rice was called "B Mac Basmati".